

• A NOTE TO YOUR FUTURE SELF

Close the chart. Open your life.

A chart doesn't make a bet a plan.

NeverTrade is an independent nonprofit educational project about the risks of short-term speculative trading. Not a broker. Not a course. Nothing to sell.

Understand the difference.

We challenge short-term speculation—not a considered long-term investment plan. All investing carries risk.

Keep the math in mind.

A 50% loss needs a 100% gain on what remains to get back to the start. That is arithmetic, not a comeback to chase.

Ask for the whole picture.

A profit screenshot does not show everyone who lost, all the costs, or the risk taken to get the result. Read sources with their dates and context.

Care first. Judgment never.

Worried about your own trading or someone else's? You do not need to wait for a larger loss to ask for support.

nevertrade.org

Read the letter. Explore the evidence.

Try the tools. Share the message.

Free, with no sign-up.

Educational information, not personal financial or medical advice. If you are in immediate danger, contact local emergency services. See nevertrade.org/help.html for independent support links.